ABSTRACT

This document describes what students should know and be able to do in the visual and performing arts prior to graduation from South Carolina high schools. The standards are based on the "South Carolina Visual and Performing Arts Framework," adopted by the South Carolina State Board of Education in 1993. Standards for performance in dance, drama, music, and visual art are organized by major content strands: (1) aesthetic perception; (2) cultural heritage; (3) creative expression; and (4) aesthetic valuing. The document, which may serve as a guide for curriculum planning, outlines specific expectations for all students by the end of grades 2, 5, and 9, in drama, music, and visual arts; and at the end of 2, 5, 8, and 12 in dance. It is recommended that at the end of each of these grades students' performance should be measured to determine the progress they are making towards achieving the standards set forth. A glossary of terms is provided for each of the four discipline areas. (MM)

- INTRODUCTION

The South Carolina Visual and Performing Arts Academic Standards describes what students should know and be able to do in the visual and performing arts prior to graduation from high school. These standards set high expectations for students and are intended to raise the level of artistic and cultural literacy and improve student's performance in the visual and performing arts. The standards clearly communicate these expectations to parents, students, teachers, the business community and the public.

The visual and performing arts standards are based on the South Carolina Visual and Performing Arts Framework, adopted by the South Carolina State Board of Education in November 1993. The standards were developed in collaboration with the following professional arts organizations: South Carolina Dance Association, South Carolina Theatre Association, South Carolina Music Educators Association, and South Carolina Art Education Association. Each organization appointed four individuals to serve on the Visual and Performing Arts Academic Achievement Standards Development Team. In addition, each respective arts organization appointed a Standards/Assessment Task Force to serve as a resource for the Achievement Standards Development Team. This document represents a collaborative effort among the Development Team, the professional arts organization, and the Department of Education.

This document outlines the specific content knowledge and skills expected of all students by the end of grades 2, 5, and 9 in drama, music, visual arts, and at the end of 2, 5, 8, and 12 in dance. Grades 2, 5, and 9 serve as benchmark years in drama, music, and visual art and at the end of 2, 5, and 8 in dance. At the end of each of these grades, student performance should be measured to determine the progress that students are making towards achieving the standards by the end of grade 12. Parents and teachers can use this information to design appropriate instruction to enable students to continue to progress and, ultimately to achieve the standards.

The South Carolina Visual and Performing Arts Academic Standards are divided into four major content strands: Aesthetic Perception, Cultural Heritage, Creative Expression, and Aesthetic Valuing. The content strands identify what students will learn in the following four art disciplines: dance, drama, music, and visual arts. The academic arts achievement standards are organized under these content strands.

A: State Level Yes No

District Level Yes No

School Level Yes No

B. If yes, for what purpose(s)? Check the appropriate items(s) below.

MONITORING

Student Level: Provide periodic measurement of student progress in order to determine the educational growth of a student from year to year.

System Level: Provide a periodic measure of the performance of groups of students to track performance over time.

INFORMATION/ACCOUNTABILITY

Parents and Students: Inform parents/students about student performance so as to encourage students or teachers to improve performance.

Public: Provide public with information about the performance of groups of students so as to encourage schools to improve the system.

IMPROVING STUDENT PERFORMANCE

Student Level: Provide data to teachers and students which encourages instruction geared to the needs of individual students.

System Level: Provide information to educators on groups of students which can be used to review current instructional strategies and materials and make improvements where needed.

ALLOCATION OF RESOURCES

Human: Use information to determine where instructional staff are needed.

Financial: Determine where financial resources are most needed.

Selection/Placement of Students: Help determine the eligibility of students for various educational programs or services, as well as the program or service most appropriate for the instructional level of the student.

CERTIFICATION

Student Level: Provide a means of determining the competence level of individual students.

Program Level (Accreditation): Provide data to certify the adequacy of an educational program or site.

PROGRAM EVALUATION

Provide the information needed to determine the effectiveness of an educational program or intervention.

COMPONENT TWO: CREATIVE EXPRESSION - Process and Product

COMPONENT THREE: DANCE HERITAGE - Historical and Cultural

COMPONENT FOUR: AESTHETIC VALUING

Glossary

General Terms

COMPONENT ONE: AESTHETIC PERCEPTION - Multisensory Integration/Technique and Skills

GOALS:

- To develop an awareness of the body as an instrument of expression.
- To increase movement/dance vocabulary.
- To promote functional and artistic use of the movement/dance elements: body, space, time, dynamics/effort.

OBJECTIVES:

Students will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the key elements of movement/dance vocabulary.
- Demonstrate an increased skill level in the use of the body in space, in time, and with dynamic fluency.
- Demonstrate increasing levels of coordination, balance, stamina, elevation, and technique appropriate to age and development.
- Demonstrate kinesthetic awareness of the body in motion and in stillness.
- Demonstrate mastery of dance technique and expanded movement vocabulary, and appropriate multisensory integration.
- Demonstrate knowledge and use of anatomically and kinesiologically sound movement principles for safety, efficiency, and longevity as a dancer.

Body as Instrument BODY AWARENESS; ACTION - AXIAL/LOCOMO TOR; SHAPES/DESIGN/ RELATIONSHIPS; MOVING IN CONTROL; BUILDING SELF-ESTEEM	Identify and demonstrate a variety of locomotor and axial movements safely and in control. Identify body parts using body shape(s) and design.	Move in control with others demonstrating locomotor and axial combinations. Create and demonstrate combinations of body shapes/ design, alone and with others.	Identify and demonstrate basic techniques of different dance genres. Apply kinesiological factors to shift weight/balance efficiently.	Demonstrate dance technique based on sound kinesiological principles.
Space GENERAL/PERSO NAL; RANGE/ SIZE; LEVEL, DIRECTION AND PATHWAY; BODY SHAPE/DESIGN FOCUS	Identify and demonstrate different sizes, levels, directions, and pathways through body actions in personal and general space	Use movement transitions when creating and dancing phrases that vary size, level, direction, and pathway. Design individual and group shapes that demonstrate symmetry/ asymmetry, positive/negative space, and two/ threedimensionality	Design body shapes and pathways that relate to those of others and/or objects.	Select a variety of space elements and demonstrate in long and short phrases
Time RHYTMIC RESPONSE METER/TEMPO FORM/PHRASE DURATION	Move to a musical beat and respond to changes in meter and tempo.	Create movement phrases that manipulate time and accent. Create phrases that show 2 or more of the following: beginning/middle/end; 2 part/AB; 3 part/ABA; round/canon.	Transfer rhythmic patterns from aural to kinesthetic. Create phrases for solo or groups that demonstrate theme and variation and rhondo forms.	Demonstrate metric, kinetic and breath phrasing in dance compositions. Create phrases working with and against accompaniment.

Dynamics/Effort LABAN EFFORT ACTIONS; FLOW; MOTIVATION	Identify and demonstrate Laban's effort actions	Demonstrate Laban's effort actions through contrast of force, time, and space.	Clarify choreographic intent and movement motivation by performing phrases	Master use of dynamic effort action and qualities in original phrases and performances
		Demonstrate dynamic qualities: sustained/ percussive; collapse/suspend; swing/sway; vibratory	that integrate dynamic qualities and effort action: inward/outward; flow-bound/free; concepts of central/peripheral initiation.

COMPONENT TWO: CREATIVE EXPRESSION - Process and Product

GOALS:

- To express ideas, feelings, and concepts in dance through the creative process.
- To apply choreographic tools and composition principles in evaluating dance works of self and others.

OBJECTIVES:

Students will be able to:

- Communicate personal feelings and ideas through movement with originality, individual style, and clarity.
- Experience the creative process in dance through experimentation, improvisation, selection, and synthesis.
- Use abstract concepts and environmental and sensory stimuli as sources for composing dances.
- Select and organize movement motifs, phrases, and dance compositions for others in informal and performance settings.
- Apply choreographic criteria to assess works in progress and finished pieces by self and others.

Person/Process EXPLORATION; COMPOSITION; PERFORMANCE	Use improvisation to invent movement and solve movement problems. Demonstrate the use of creative movement and various dance patterns.	Practice composition/dance before presenting for review Select accompaniment and create movement sequences appropriate for specific compositional studies.	Refine exploration skills; improvise alone and with others; explore texture, dynamics, range with and without sounds/self-accomp animent, and/or props. Extend and refine manipulative skills through augmentation, diminution and fragmentation.	Use new sources for compositional stimuli to experience total creative process (explore, improvise, select, refine, and respond to external and self-evaluation to clarify intent).
Product FORM/STRUCTU RE; PEER/OTHER EVALUATION	Identify and demonstrate beginning/middle/ end of movement sequences. Identify use of assigned criteria in works of others	Apply appropriate criteria determined by set task to evaluate self/others works. Demonstrate AB form alone, in pairs or groups.	Shape sequences for effective use of overall space, time factors, and effort/dynamic contrasts. Evaluate choreographic intent of a dance.	Organize and conduct rehearsals. Perform dance for audience

GOALS:

- To acquire knowledge of the historical and cultural significance of dance and the universality of the dance phenomenon and to develop an awareness of the significance for dance for society
- To acquire knowledge about the role of the dancer-choreographer in society.

OBJECTIVES:

Students will be able to:

- Understand that dance reflects, records and shapes history and plays a role in every culture as a universal language.
- Become aware that dance takes many forms, is a valid form of expression for males and females, and can present and communicate ideas in many different ways.
- Demonstrate cultural and historical similarities and differences among dance forms.
- Demonstrate comprehension of a variety of dance styles and proficiency in executing more than one style.
- Recognize the role of the dancer in society as an expressive artist, entertainer, and creator of artistic values and accomplishments of civilization.
- Identify important dance innovators in past and contemporary cultures.
- Identify careers related to dance in contemporary society.

COMPONENT FOUR: AESTHETIC VALUING

GOALS:

- To appreciate the art of dance as a communication form, both as the participant and the observer.
- To value the choreographic process and the choreographic criteria, respectively.
- To judge the quality of dance(s) by applying aesthetic principles and choreographic criteria.
- To appreciate the relationship of the skill of the performer to the clarity of the performance.
- To increase dance vocabulary and expressive language in discussing aesthetic valuing.

OBJECTIVES:

Students will be able to:

- Recognize the power of dance as nonverbal communication and creative expression, both as observer and participant.
- Appreciate the universality of dance and other art forms.

- Recognize the traditional great works of dance and their aesthetic values as creative milestones.
- Recognize the difference between the process and product.
- Recognize the necessity for commitment to a project by dancers and creators.
- Apply aesthetic principles and choreographic criteria to judge the quality of dance both as observer and internally as the creator/participant.
- Recognize the relationship between the level of choreographic expertise and the aesthetic sophistication of the dance.
- Make judgments about anatomical and performance factors basic to the technical and performance skill of the performer.
- Utilize accurate terminology when discussing the technical skills of the performer and aesthetic principles and their application to dance works.
- Increase and use correct dance terminology and a variety of synonyms and reference points (historical/cultural) in the discussion of the aesthetics of dance.
- Develop a vocabulary for dance criticism related to the aesthetics of dance styles.

DANCE GLOSSARY

Aesthetic Perception: Aesthetic perception is "seeing" the presentation of human movement "as" a dance image, and as a dance image of a particular kind. It encompasses movement as felt by the dancer in his/her own body and movement as seen in the body of another by the spectator. The development and refinement of aesthetic perception entails learning the elements, skills, and techniques for creating and recognizing dance images.

Creative Process: The creative process in dance is bringing clarity to personal ideas through the public "language" of dance. It entails learning the discipline and skills necessary for making and presenting dances; creative thinking skills; and nurturing the passion for creating dances for their own sake.

Dance Heritage: All dance is cultural practice. There are universal themes, yet their specific manifestation in particular dances and styles of dancing are always rooted in the beliefs and values of a group of people situated in time and place. Developing sensitivity to cultural and historical dance entails learning the who, what, when, why and how of the dances of any cultural group, including one's own.

Aesthetic Valuing: The aesthetic value ascribed to dances and dancing arises out of experiences of significance and pleasure. Public criteria developed for dances and dancing become established value systems of dance aesthetics. When these public criteria are learned by an individual they become part of the cultural experience that a person brings to the judgment of aesthetic value in dance. The aesthetic value felt by the dancer and the spectator is rooted in personal evaluation of all aspects of dance.

General Terms

Asymmetry: A design, space, time, or energy that is not the same on both sides.

Augmentation: To make greater, larger, more intense.

Axial Movement: Any movement that is anchored to one spot by a body part using only the available space in any direction without losing the initial body contact. Movement designed around the axis of the body rather than designed for travel from one location to another.

Cannon: A musical form similar to a round.

Choreography: A term used to describe actual steps, groupings, patterns and other combined elements of a dance composition.

Collapse: To shrink together abruptly.

Composition: The end product resulting from the process of exploring movement possibilities, experimenting with a broadly focused movement idea or concept, selecting the movement to be developed further, formulating the structure of the composition/study/phrase, clarifying or "cleaning up" the movement, rhythm, accents, pathway and body designs so the intent is clear, and refine the execution of the movement so the composition can be performed consistently with finesse appropriate to the skill level of the dancer(s).

Diminution: A term used primarily in the manipulation of movement. The original movement is made smaller in terms of space, range (size) or time.

Directions: Forward, backward, sideward, diagonally, circularly, up, down.

Duration: The amount of time (long-short) used to complete a movement or to hold in stillness.

Dynamics: Quality and quantity of energy expended, its force or strength and feeling quality or color, shadings in the amount of energy, intensity or power; subtle variations in treatment of movement contrasts.

Effort: Movement quality.

Ethnic Dances: Refers to the type of national dance which reflects the particular characteristics of specific minority groups within the larger culture. Ethnic dance may be transferred or transported to a new place without any changes and may continue to be performed in its new location just as it was in its place of origin.

Experimentation: Movement is explored related to a broadly defined purpose in order to select specific motives for a given problem.

Exploration: Process of coming up with or creating movement based on ideas, stimuli, or images presented by the teacher or leader.

Flow: A manner in which movements are sequentially connected.

Focus: Intensity and direction of movement as it is projected spacially.

Folk Dance: May be defined as the traditional dances of a given country or area which have evolved naturally and spontaneously in conjunction with everyday activities and experiences of the people who developed them. They are perpetuated from generation to generation in the manner of all folk traditions--from person to person, family to family, village to village..

Form: Two part - (binary form) musical/dance structure in two sections each contrasting with the other. Often referred to as AB. Three part - Often referred to as ABA. A = one phrase, B = a different phrase, A = return to the original phrase.

Fragmentation: A term used primarily in the manipulation of movement. The original movement flow is broken into irregular pieces (fragments). The original movement need not be completed when fragmentation is applied as a choreographic tool.

General Space: An area beyond personal space available for movement purposes.

Genre: A kind or type of dance style, each type distinguished by specific learned technique which historical, cultural, kinesiological, or entertainment values.

Improvisation: Movement which is created spontaneously, ranging from free form to highly structured environments but always with an element of chance. Improvisation is instant and simultaneous choreography and performance.

Inward Focus: Projecting/directing movement into the body or immediate personal space.

Kinesthetic: Refers to the ability of the body's sensory nerve endings in the muscles, tendons and joints to respond to movement while dancing or viewing dance.

Kinesiological: Applying the study of the principles of mechanics and anatomy in relation to human movement.

Laban Effort Actions: Term used to refer to body actions that combine space, flow, time, and force. The eight effort actions are flick, dab, punch, wring, float, glide, press, and slash.

Levels: High, middle, low. Altitude of a movement in relationship to its distance from the floor.

Locomotor Movement: A movement that carries the body from one place to another through space using the feet or any other part of the body as a basis for moving (e.g., walking, running, hopping, jumping, skipping, galloping, sliding, leaping, rolling, crawling.)

Manipulate: Shape and reform the movement.

Meter: Division of time or rhythmical structure indicating the number of beats in one measure (indicated by the time signature in music).

Metric Phrase: Phrase distinguished by repeated measures of a specified number of beats. This provides the dancer with a downbeat at regular intervals.

Negative Space: Negative areas are the unoccupied or empty spaces.

National Dance: Those traditional folk dances which are most popular and which are widely danced in all part of a specific country.

Outward Focus: Projecting/directing movement away from the body or into or beyond general space.

Pathways: Patterns of movement through space as in straight, zigzag, curvy or wavy.

Percussive: Beating or striking quality.

Personal Space: Space which immediately surrounds the body in stillness and motion. It is also referred to as a "space bubble" which one occupies and includes all planes and directions.

Phrase: A natural grouping of movements that give a temporary feeling of completion.

Positive Space: The positive areas in a composition are definite forms and shapes.

Product: Finished dance work.

Range: Size.

Rhondo: A music and dance form where there is a recurring theme which repeats after each new section (e.g. ABACADA).

Rounds: A dance form in which the original theme is imitated exactly by another per/group each group beginning at a slightly different point in time resulting in counterpoint.

Rhythmic Response: Response to the flow of movement in recurrent groupings resulting in a feeling of relationship, proportion and forward progression. Symmetrical grouping formed by the regular recurrence of heavy and light accents. Response to the pattern of beats in measures in music.

Space: An element of dance, relating to the area through which one moves.

Suspend: A moment when the movement is lifted and held.

Sustained: Prolonging the movement.

Swing: Swings have the quality or action of the pendulum on a clock as it traces an arc like path between two points - rising, falling rising. The rising action is increasingly sustained, and the falling action is increasingly quickened.

Symmetry: The same shape, design, or form on both sides.

Tempo: Rate of speed.

Texture: The quality of a dance work resulting from the artist's technique and compositional elements in distinct relationships of contrast or harmony.

Three Dimensional: Design of the body in space. Not flat.

Two Dimensional: Flat shape of the body on floor.

Unity: A coherent entity with all parts having a harmonious relationship that contribute to the sense of completeness.

Vibratory: A sharp, quick action done by moving body parts quickly back and forth or side to side. The speed of the shaking can be changed slightly but if done too slowly the vibratory quality is lost. Body parts can shake separately or simultaneously.
